This letter of recommendation is being written for Heather Ashton and Andrew Black as a testament to the character of these two individuals.

I met Heather Ashton ten years ago, while she was a student at UCF. Heather was a nanny for my three children for three years, before graduating from UCF. I would like to tell you a little about the most phenomenal babysitter that we have ever had in our lives and why we know that Heather is that person. Heather is intelligent, interactive, fun, creative, kind and superwoman when it comes to handling children. She managed my three kids with ease and respect, was consistent with rules yet made every day fun for them. From cooking eggs with ketchup in the kitchen with my three year old, to baking brownies decorated with purple icing and sprinkles with the older girls, she made every activity an experience to remember. Heather planned day trips with the kids like picnics, trips to the park, a day at the beach, a trip to the mall to see the Easter Bunny or Santa Claus. She played games with the kids and often had about five or six other neighborhood kids here for part of the day, because children are drawn to her. She relates so well with children and knows where each one is developmentally so can interact with them effectively. She stimulates their intellect by reading to them. Heather is wonderful with animals and teaches respect for nature to children. It wasn't long before Heather was being asked to baby-sit for multiple other families in our neighborhood. There is something very special about her and she has a definite gift with children. I also would like to point out that my children still get birthday cards from Heather every year, and it has been seven years since she moved away! Heather touched my family in a way that left a mark on our hearts forever. She is a beautiful person that can do anything she puts her mind to.

We had the pleasure of meeting Andy two years ago when he and Heather were in Orlando for a visit. My son (then nine) was instantly his fan since Andy took him out into the front yard and threw the football to him for thirty minutes. (Andy was also dressed rather nicely and by the time the football game was over, he had gotten very sweaty). But he didn't seem to mind. He kept playing with Cam. At dinner that night, Andy made us all laugh with his funny faces. He was kind, respectful and silly. At Halloween, we got the picture of Andy, Heather, Jayden and Cookie (the dog) dressed up as Clue Characters. They are unique and extraordinary people.

There cannot be a more qualified couple to open a daycare in their home then Heather and Andy. We were never able to replace Heather with anyone who could hold a torch to the bar she set with my kids. Any family would be thrilled and blessed to find their child in the care of these two amazing and beautiful people. Please call me if you have any questions about this letter.

Respectfully yours,
